

Change the future.

The Robert T. Huang Entrepreneurship Center of Kyushu University (QREC) aims to develop global leaders who will embark on creating new values and bring about societal change.

QREC is an institute for the joint use of Kyushu University that was established in 2010 with the reorganization of the Venture Business Laboratory, thanks to a donation from Dr. Robert T. Huang.

Over the five years since its establishment, QREC has composed a systematic curriculum for the fostering of human talents who are rich in the entrepreneurial spirit, and offers students who want to challenge the creation of new value from all over the University a program of no less than 30 courses, not only related to the business world. This unprecedented comprehensive initiative was given a high evaluation in the White Paper on Science and Technology 2013.

In the future, QREC will continue to offer an array of project-based practical educational opportunities for active learners who can think and act for themselves, while at the same time attempting to create eco systems linked to entrepreneurship and global developments through collaboration between QREC and worldwide universities and research institutions. QREC will seek to contribute to society, and carry on autonomously tackling new initiatives.

Thank you for your continued support and cooperation.

What is vital is just how successful we are in fostering innovative entrepreneurs who can perform on the global stage.

It is now five years since QREC was established. Thanks to the leadership of former Director General Toru Tanigawa, the efforts of all the teaching staff and the support of the University, a total of more than 2,000 students have taken courses at QREC. I would like to express here my gratitude and sense of pride that we have been able to achieve such a remarkable track record.

Last June the new Director General, Professor Hirofumi Taniguchi, came to Silicon Valley to greet me upon his appointment. He told me about his new vision for QREC, based on its ongoing founding principles. I think that the most vital issue for QREC is just how successful we are in fostering innovative entrepreneurs who can perform on the global stage.

The city of Fukuoka is the strategic city for start-ups in Japan, and recently Soichiro Takashima, Mayor of Fukuoka, led a business mission to Silicon Valley. I really hope that from now on the most will be made of the QREC programs and that they will make a contribution to Japanese start-ups in conjunction with industry-government-academia alliances.

QREC strives to be one of the top full-fledged entrepreneurship education and research centers not only in Kyushu and Japan, but also in Asia.

Global

Practical

The courses QREC offers to students are not limited to classroom lectures. The curricula of QREC include Project Based Learning, and interactive discussions. In this way, QREC provides students with a practical, dynamic, and interdisciplinary.

Design

In order to produce new social value, we need to find and identify the problems, and then "design" how we solve them.

All subjects in the curriculum are available to all Kyushu University students to take as their minor. The curriculum is designed to enable students to study entrepreneurship in stages, from basics through application to practice.

Education students endeavor to actually put what they have learned into practice based on their knowledge and understanding of methodology.

Integration

Education designed to provide knowledge for achieving ideas for resolving issues.

Knowledge/Tool

Organization/Group Dynamics

Students learn how to build organization/team for carrying out projects.

Finance

Students learn methods for procuring funds.

Marketing/Strategy

Students learn how to understand market generation and business strategies.

Idea Generation

Students receive training in "idea generation" methods for resolving issues.

Education designed to make students realize the important of understanding social "issues" and "taking action" to make their own dreams come true.

Motivation

QREC offers subjects following the flow of each of these themes.

The Basic Methodology behind QREC's Entrepreneurship Education

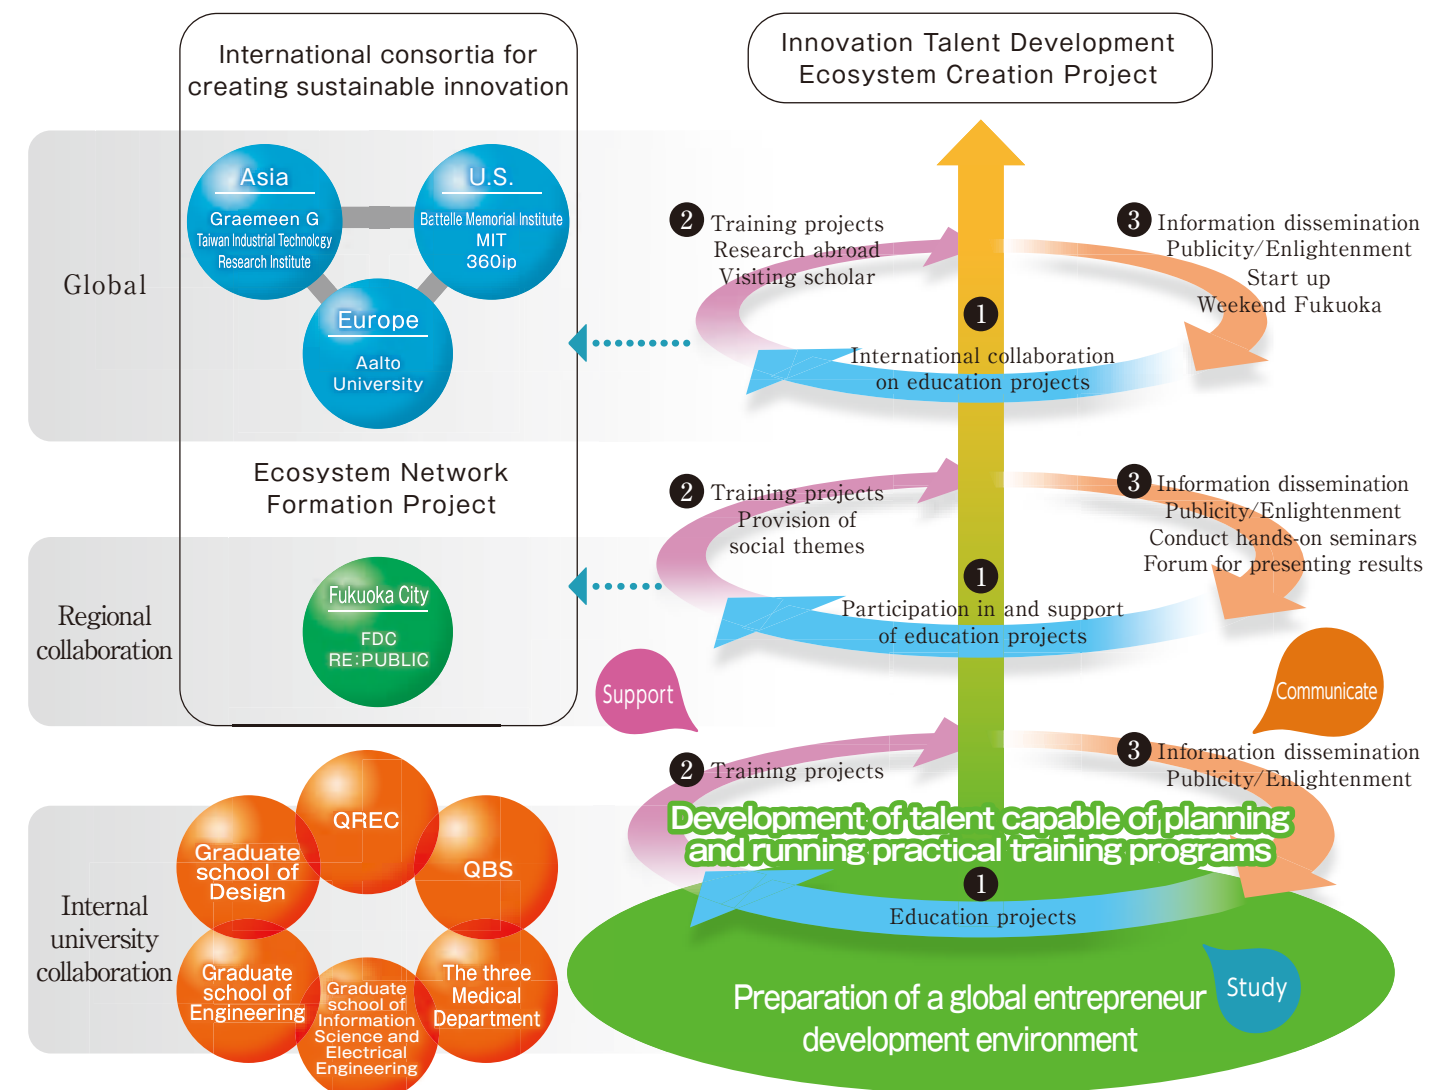

Mainstream contemporary entrepreneurship education has begun shifting from learning “about” entrepreneurship to learning “through” entrepreneurship, where students execute projects and gain practical experience by performing work similar to what actually takes place in the real world.

At QREC we pursue a four-cornered cycle consisting of “Experimentation” followed by “Play,” “Empathy” and “Creation,” all leading back to practical trials. Through this cycle the students look back on the results of what they have put into practice and by reflecting on and judging what was good and what was bad, they exercise their creative powers, empathize with others, and in turn we aim to foster human resources who have a spirit of meeting the challenge of turning innovation into reality and are armed with entrepreneurship.

Enhancing Development of Global Entrepreneur Program

Kyushu University's Global Innovation Talent Development Ecosystem Creation Program, proposed by Robert T. Huang Entrepreneurship Center (QREC), has been selected as an EDGE (Enhancing Development of Global Entrepreneur) Program, which falls under the 2014 Science and Technology Human Resources Development Aid Program run by the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT).

(EDGE: Enhancing Development of Global Entrepreneur Program)

Student Projects

At QREC, under the concept of “making the students” ideas take shape, we foster active learners who will be able to make an impact inside and outside Japan, and promote the challenge of creating innovative businesses. There are several steps allowing them to learn through action-based experiences, with each stage providing challenging opportunities.
