Robert T. Huang Entrepreneurship Center of Kyushu University
Kjusoukai Fund Student Eligible for Grant
Application Guidelines

1. Outline

Kjusoukai was established through a donation to Kyushu University Robert T. Huang/Entrepreneurship Center (QREC) from President Tadahisa Kagimoto, a graduate of Kyushu University School of Medicine and a founder of HEALIOS K.K. The purpose of Kjusoukai is to support the development of human resources who will support the future of Japan from Kyushu University by doing business.

Kjusoukai Fund is looking for Kyushu University students who are aware of the current situation, recognize social issues that need to be solved, and wish to solve the problems by social implementation through business with a constructive and critical spirit.

2. Eligibility

Kyushu University undergraduates and post graduate students

(Students studying abroad, having plan to study abroad, on a leave of absence can also apply.)

3. Students eligible for the fund

( 1 ) Students who have a deep awareness of the current situation and can immerse themselves in thinking about it from diverse perspectives.

( 2 ) Students who are aware of essential and major social issues that have not been solved yet and have a strong desire to "do something about it".

( 3 ) Students who can persistently work to solve social issues with a constructive and critical spirit, without being distracted by easy ideas and trends.

( 4 ) Students who are able to solve problems through collaboration; who can find colleagues to work together on things that cannot be handled by themselves.

( 5 ) Students who have a strong desire to grow up as human being through the activities of this fund.

4. Required activities

( 1 ) Verbalize your awareness of your own problems and define the social issues you want to solve.

( 2 ) Devise a solution to the problem with a wide range of free ideas, regardless of trends or existing frameworks.

( 3 ) Aiming for social implementation through business by testing hypotheses (=action) repeatedly of the solutions devised.

( 4 ) Ensure the continuity of activities by engaging in dialogue with various people, including Kyusoukai mentors, to gain their endorsement and specific cooperation.

※ In the activities of the Fund, when taking new initiatives that are not bound by existing frameworks, we must allow for mistakes that can be recovered even if they appear to be a change of direction or a return to the drawing board and recognize them as a step forward when viewed from a bird's eye view.

5. Grants

( 1 ) A grant of 1 million yen / year to 2.5 million yen / year will be provided. The amount will be determined based on the applicant's concept and activity content.

( 2 ) The grant will be paid in two times. The first payment will be made in October, and the second payment will be made in January after the interim report of the activities in December. A final report on activities for six months will be made in March.

( 3 ) Since the grant payment is considered as income, grant recipients are required to file their own finalization tax returns.

( 4 ) Face-to-face and remote support by QREC faculty and Kyusoukai members will be provided.

6. Activity schedule

The activity period will be from October to December 2022 and from January to March 2023. Details of each activity will be reported in the interim report in December 2022 and the final report in March 2023.
